EFFORTS TO REDUCE RACIAL, ETHNIC, AND ECONOMIC ISOLATION

Connecticut law requires that school districts provide educational opportunities for its students to interact with students and teachers from diverse racial, ethnic, and economic backgrounds. This may occur through magnet school programs, public school choice programs, charter schools, minority staff recruitment, inter- or intradistrict programs and projects, distance learning, or other experiences. Below is the description submitted by this school district of how it provides such experiences.

Regional School District No. 7 is mindful of the importance of providing our students with diverse cultural, racial and social experiences and opportunities. We recognize that indeed "no school is an island." Geographically located in northwestern Connecticut, we are particularly challenged with meeting this goal of diversity. However, within the last few years, we have made many strides to address this critical directive.

Perhaps foremost in this effort is the student-focused H.O.P.E. (Helping Others Promote Equality) at the high school. This thriving group promotes various activities that celebrate differences found in all segments of the population. Its membership is varied, and it maintains a high profile in the school with its message of tolerance and acceptance. Similarly, community service to benefit less fortunate nearby communities is a drive of many student activities in both the middle and high school. The Head Start program, substance abuse programs, soup kitchens and food banks have all been the recipients of our students' efforts.

Our Vocational Agriculture program serves as a magnet school for numerous communities. In that program, students from varying backgrounds collaboratively work toward preserving and improving all of the economic conditions and opportunities in agriculture-related fields.

Mindful of the need to continue our efforts, we will be exploring other partnerships in the State during the next school year. Sister school programs, distance learning, exchange programs, and world language opportunities including Italian and Chinese, are all currently being pursued. We are committed to providing our students with the richest experiences to meet the demands of our diverse world.

EQUITABLE ALLOCATION OF RESOURCES AMONG DISTRICT SCHOOLS

Below is the description submitted by this district of how it allocates resources to insure equity and address needs.

Regional School District No. 7 serves students in Grades 7-12 from the towns of Barkhamsted, Colebrook, New Hartford and Norfolk. Through a well-planned budget process, each town is actively involved in the development of the schools comprising the District: Northwestern Regional High School and Northwestern Regional Middle School.

In order to ensure the strongest delivery of instruction, the High School is divided in two "houses." All students are assigned to either "1" or "2" house and remain in that assignment for their time at Northwestern. This structure allows for the best student-teacher ratio possible. All opportunities and experiences are identical in both High School houses; student activities and successes are fully equitable. The Middle School is organized according to a traditional Team plan. Students remain with a given group of teachers in a two-year looping pattern; teaching and learning are effectively maximized over this two year period.

Resources are fairly and soundly divided between the two schools. The importance of maintaining a powerful 7-12 continuum has been recognized by the staff, administration, and the communities. Most importantly, the Board of Education, representing each of the sending towns, has ensured fair and equitable programming for all.

EVIDENCE OF SUSTAINED IMPROVEMENTS IN STUDENT ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Below is a summary, submitted by this school district, of the major trends in student performance and accomplishments that indicate sustained improvement over time. Also, areas of need are identified and plans to address these needs are presented.

The primary purpose of Regional School District No. 7 is to provide our students with the best learning and instruction possible. We strive to provide a balanced, culturally rich experience for all. Highlights of the 2004-2005 school year include:

- Development of a 7-12 Three-Year Strategic Plan which cooperatively involved teachers, parents, community leaders and citizens of all four towns
- Development of a one-year Action Plan focused on improved student learning and increased opportunities and involvement for all
- Continued efforts to improve instructional links to the four elementary districts
- Commendable CAPT student performance at the top of Litchfield County and our ERG
- Outstanding student performance on the AP Calculus, Biology, American Government, and European History exams with increased rates of participation
- Addition of Content Leaders at the Middle School to provide support to Middle School curriculum development
- Continued high student performance on all areas of the CMT
- Additional efforts at the Middle and High School to maintain a positive atmosphere through the "Rocket It Forward" and "Names Can Really Hurt Us" programs
- Participation by the Middle School and High School in numerous civic projects to raise funds and to provide direct relief to those in need.

Through the support and combined effort of the towns of Barkhamsted, Colebrook, New Hartford, and Norfolk, we continue to provide successful learning experiences to our students. Our teachers and staff are highly trained, dedicated professionals. Together, we hold high expectations and standards as we prepare our students to meet the challenges of the future.
